INAUGURATE NEW SYSTEM HANDLING SMALL ACCOUNTS

CORSICANA BANKS WILL MAKE CHARGE OF FIFTY CENTS MONTH

A service charge on small checking accounts will be made beginning October 1, by all Corsicana banks, according to announcement by the Corsicana Clearing House Association.
In connection with the announcement, the Clearing House Association has given out the following statement:
"Because of the large increase in the use of checks in the transaction of business and the increased expense of handling checks, banks find many small checking accounts are carried on their books at a loss.
"Beginning October 1, 1927, the Corsicana banks will charge 50c per month on all checking accounts with an average balance of $50 or less, and against which there has been five or more checks drawn during the month. This charge is being made to partly reimburse the banks for the actual expense of handling these accounts.
"We want our customers who do not find it convenient to keep an average balance of more than $50 to feel free to avail themselves of the convenience of a checking account on the above basis."

St. Louis, Sept. 29.—At least thirteen persons were killed and more than 200 were injured in a tornado which struck St. Louis early this afternoon, causing widespread damage to property.
By Associated Press.
St. Louis, Sept. 29. A terrific rainstorm, accompanied by wind of 80 miles an hour velocity, struck St. Louis shortly before 1 p. m. today, injuring many persons and causing considerable property damage.
Twenty ambulance calls were received. The entire police department was ordered out for emergency duty.
Police expressed fear there had been fatalities. Troops in various sections of the city were torn off and walls of buildings were caved in.
Telephone and telegraph service was interrupted.
The corner of the Central High School building collapsed. Pupils and teachers immediately took shelter in the Odeon Theatre nearby. Police were investigating reports that two persons were caught in the collapse.
The heavy roof of the right field pavilion at Sportsman's Park, where major league games were played, was blown off.
The first fatality reported was that of William Owsley, who was struck by a heavy piece of timber while in his automobile near Forest Park. He died on the way to the hospital.
Numerous houses on the east and south sides of Forest Park were damaged by the wind. Many trees were blown down.

Arkansas Town is Almost Wiped Out

By Associated Press.
Rudy, Ark., Sept. 29. Ten persons were injured, one probably fatally, in a tornado which struck here today, cutting a path through the village. Only ten buildings remained intact when the storm passed.
About one hundred children were in a frame school house on the north side of town, one of the buildings wrecked, but all escaped with only minor bruises. One-half of the school collapsed and the other section turned on its foundation.
The infant daughter of Mrs. Marvin Graham is believed fatally injured.
The other injured are:
Mrs. Marvin Graham, Miss Ross Webb, May and George Pittman, children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pittman; Miss Margaret Carmoy, severe body bruises; Ralph Wayne Kuykendall, son of Mrs. Beulah Woerth, bruises; Mrs. George Stanfield is said to have suffered two broken hips when her home, one and a half miles east of here, was demolished.
The Frisco depot, a half dozen brick and frame buildings, and four or five dwellings, were all that escaped damage.

By Associated Press.
Fort Smith, Ark., Sept. 29.—The village of Rudy, 12 miles north of Fort Smith, was swept today by a tornado which is reported to have razed twelve dwellings and a school house, without causing any fatalities or serious injuries, according to meagre reports received here.

By Associated Press.
Fort Smith, Ark., Sept. 29.—Rudy, a Crawford county village about 12 miles north of here, has been swept by a tornado, according to S. T. Cantrell, division superintendent of the Frisco Railroad. He said every building was leveled except the depot. He said the train on which he was traveling narrowly escaped the storm, which struck at 9:30 o'clock. Mr. Cantrell did not know whether there had been any loss of life.
Rudy is a large fruit shipping point with a population of about 200. It has fifteen business buildings.
Later reports say that a number of buildings were unroofed but that there had been no loss of life.

AUSTIN PHYSICIAN WITNESS FOR STATE GEORGETOWN TRIAL

STATED REBECCA ROGERS
DOES NOT SUFFER FROM DEMENTIA PRAECOX

By Associated Press.
Georgetown, Texas, Sept. 29. Rebecca Bradley Rogers' arson case was given to the jury in the 26th district court at 2:15 p. m. today.
By Associated Press.
Georgetown, Texas, Sept. 29. Over vigorous protest of the defense, the State today reopened its case in the trial of Rebecca Bradley Rogers, former University of Texas co-ed, charged with arson in connection with the burning of a building in Round Rock, Texas, last December.
Dr. Joe S. Wooten of Austin was called to the stand by the prosecution in an effort to contradict defense testimony which tended to prove that Mrs. Rogers is "unbalanced" and suffering from dementia praecox and that almost every person shows some symptom of it without being a victim.
Dr. Wooten, testified unwillingly that information given him by Mrs. Rogers was in confidence. He said that Mrs. Rogers came to him for examination about January 1, a few weeks after her arrest in connection with the Buda bank robbery, which occurred on the day after the fire at Round Rock.
He said that he had given her eight examinations and had a forty page autobiography of her life. After the testimony of Dr. Wooten, the defense filed a motion asking that the motion was denied and the court charged the jury.
Two hours to each side was allowed for arguments which began about 10:30 o'clock.
The charge, on fifteen issues, outlined, in addition to routine, the nature of an alibi, defined arson, explained the nature of circumstantial evidence necessary for conviction and said that insanity is a defense if the defendant was of such unsound mind at the time of the commission of her crime as to not know right from wrong.
Two pages of exceptions to the charges were filed by the defense. The case probably will go to the jury about four o'clock this afternoon.

CLAIMED POISON NOT FOUND VISCERA MARY JANE BAILEY

ATTORNEYS FOR NURSE
CHARGED WITH MURDER
GAVE OUT STATEMENT

By Associated Press.
Enid, Okla., Sept. 29. A rigorous chemical test completed last Tuesday revealed that no poison was present in the viscera of Mary Jane Bailey, 18 year old daughter of the Rev. Charles Bailey of Enid, Dr. W. H. Bailey, Oklahoma City pathologist, testified here today at the preliminary hearing of Mary Atkinson, trained nurse, charged with murder in connection with Miss Bailey's death.
He went into considerable detail. His preliminary test, he said, indicated the presence of one or all of three poisons.
This test, he said, was not conclusive.
His next test, Dr. Bailey said, eliminated suspicion that two of the poisons were present.
A further chemical test, the witness said, was completed Tuesday, and did not show the presence of the third poison.

By Associated Press.
Enid, Okla., Sept. 29. Confident of the innocence of Mary Atkinson, 26-year-old trained nurse, charged with murdering Mary Jane Bailey, daughter of Charles Bailey, Episcopal rector here, Harry O. Glasser and H. G. McKeever, Miss Atkinson's attorneys, issued a statement following the morning session of her preliminary hearing predicting acquittal.
"If the reports in the morning papers are correct in stating that W. H. Bailey, Oklahoma City pathologist, has revised his report to say that poison has not been found in lethal quantity in Miss Bailey's viscera," McKeever said, "the prosecution hasn't a leg to stand on."

"So far," said Glasser, "the State has proved only that Miss Atkinson loved Mr. Bailey."
Asked For Truth.
"At the outset," Mr. Glasser continued, "we went to Miss Atkinson and told her to inform us correctly as to whether poison had been administered to Miss Bailey. We told her that her very life might depend upon her answer. She protested that she had not administered poison either to Miss Bailey or her mother, who died, physicians said, with symptoms similar to those of her daughter's fatal illness."

"We proposed then," Glasser said, "that Mrs. Bailey's body be exhumed and an analysis made. She agreed to this. That was ten days ago, and the State has not yet had Mrs. Bailey's body exhumed. We are confident that no poison would be found in Mrs. Bailey's body."
Brother Dead Girl Witness.
John Bailey, 15-year-old son of Mr. Bailey, was the first witness on the stand today.
He traced the history of his father's meeting with Miss Atkinson at Gainesville, Texas, through the death of his mother, and, several weeks later, his sister, Mary Jane. He told of Miss Atkinson's return to the Bailey home after he said his father had asked her to leave. Miss Atkinson, he said, appeared at the Bailey home on Monday morning preceding the Thursday of Miss Bailey's death and helped to prepare the breakfast. During the day, John testified, his brother, Stuart, and his two sisters, Mary Jane and Helen, became ill.

All had apparently recovered, he said, when Mary Jane became fatally ill.
Mary Jane was seized with this illness, he said, while sleeping on a porch with Miss Atkinson.

HEADS TWO AMERICAN REPUBLICS TALK OVER LONG DISTANCE WIRE

By Associated Press.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Two American republics witnessed another evidence of the forward march of international communication today when President Coolidge and President Calles formally opened the long distance telephone line between Washington and Mexico City with a personal conversation.

Traversing farms, ranches, rivers and deserts, the voice of Mr. Coolidge was to be heard by the Mexican President at the National Palace late this afternoon and in return, Mr. Calles, speaking in Spanish, was to extend felicitations to the American people through President Coolidge who speaks from the hall of the Americas in the Pan-American Building.

Neither was destined to understand the other because Mr. Coolidge speaks no Spanish and the Mexican executive scarcely any English but the conversation, interpreted at both terminals, nevertheless, retains its primary significance of further demonstrating the remarkable progress which recent times have given to international communication. Both at Mexico City and Washington, a distinguished company was to hear the two presidents converse.

Conversation Late Today

Promptly at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon after Waters Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company has given a brief account of the evolution of long distance telephony, Mr. Coolidge was to pick up the receiver to hear the Spanish equivalent of "Hello" from the Mexican President, followed by a formal discourse in diplomatic terms, Mr. Coolidge speaking first with an immediate reply from President Calles. Both presidents were to be spared the slight delays in making connections since Director F. S. Rowe of the Pan-American Union planned to preside at the telephone until the lines were clear.

When the Mexican executive completes his conversation with Mr. Coolidge, Acting Secretary Walter J. Cary of the American State Department converses with Genaro Estrada, Mexican acting minister of foreign affairs, to be followed by Ambassador Telles at Washington and Arthur Schoenfeld, American charge d'affaires at Mexico City.

Bands to Be Heard

An additional aspect was lent to the occasion by the playing of the Mexican National anthem here by the United States Army band and the return compliment of the Mexican National band playing the Star Spangled Banner. President Coolidge was places for officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company which, in conjunction with the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, has built the circuit to Mexico City. The line also connects several other important cities of the republic to the south.

In Washington, about 300 invitations have been issued and for each guest a separate set of head phones was provided so that all present could hear all that goes on.

FORMATION OF BLOC IN EUROPE AGAINST U. S. TARIFF URGED

By Associated Press.

Brussels, Belgium, Sept. 29.—Possible formation of a European Economic Union to defend the interest of old world against the United States is discussed today in an article in the Discussed Belge, which speaks for important shipping and industrial interests in Belgium.

Reviewing the general economic situation in connection with the French and American tariff policies, the paper says the United States is opposed to reciprocity as far as tariff questions are concerned, although prepared perhaps to make concessions concerning loans, conversion of debts, and the like. Germany, it continues, considers the American viewpoint audacious and unjustified; Great Britain backs France, and so will all the other powers who, like France, are subjected to the Fordney tariff and its "monstrous surprises."

Such being the situation, the paper concludes, the question arises whether it is impossible for all the countries interested to unite with a view to constituting a bloc for their mutual defense.

ACTIVITY CHAMBERS CREEK SHALLOW POOL SHOWING INCREASE

Increased activity has been noted recently in the Chambers Creek shallow field. Two small wells have been brought in on the Kent-Hardy lease during the last few days, and crews are still working on the wells.

The Kent-Hardy 18 set casing at 1126 feet, and the plug was drilled and a liner set to 1314 feet. A good showing was found, and the well is a small producer.

Kent-Hardy has slackened in the new Cedar Creek area south of Mexico, following the recent rains. Practically all of the new wells in the area are plugged in cleaning out in an effort to increase production. The Reiter-Lewis-Murray Ward No. 2 is the best well in the field so far, flowing 330 barrels a day.

The Rydell Oil Company's Ward No. 1 was shut down waiting for orders. This well set casing and was drilled in but failed to find the pay in appreciable quantities.

Claim Hair Dead Girl Not Dyed

By Associated Press.

Austlin, Sept. 27.—Blind trails again today closed about officers attempting to identify the body of a young girl found in a hole near Fredericksburg when an analysis of her hair by the State Pure Food and Drug Division revealed that it never had been dyed, thus establishing apparently conclusively that the body is not that of Billie Owens of Crane City.

Miss Owens' mother yesterday virtually dissipated belief that the body was that of her daughter, but detectives still hoped because Billie's sister, beauty expert, had identified it, declaring that the hair had been dyed.

I would have dull, stupid feeling, and my head would ache and when I would lean over, I would get dizzy. I found that a couple of doses of Black-Draught would relieve this. I used to have gas on my stomach, and would spit up grease. Black-Draught relieved this."

DEFENDANT IN FLOGGING CASE CHANGES PLEA AND GETS ONE YEAR IN PRISON

Associated Press. Corsicana, Texas, Sept. 28.—By drawing his plea of not guilty and entering a plea of guilty to the charge of one year in the penitentiary, DeWitt Osborne, of Marshall, charged with violation of the anti-flogging law in connection with the flogging of Harrison county, Sept. 8, abruptly terminated his trial here yesterday. In entering his plea of guilty Osborne made no reference to the guilt or innocence of others involved.

C. H. Anderson, wealthy farmer near Marshall, and Osborne, Anderson's employee, were indicted last June in connection with the flogging of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Richardson and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. A. Strapps, tenants on the Anderson farm.

Anderson's trial at Tyler recently resulted in a mistrial. In the case of Osborne at Tyler yesterday, defense lawyers said they realized that the direct evidence of the victims of the flogging would be hard to overcome and that Osborne was young and only a tool in the hands of the master mind.

RELEASE OF PATIENTS FROM ASYLUMS MAY BE EFFECTED AT ONCE

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Sept. 28.—It is possible, wherever practicable and possible, of State insane asylum inmates committed only on physicians' affidavits, was ordered today by the State Board of Control but efforts will be made to give a jury trial to determine sanity or insanity of each patient temporarily allowed to go free.

The board acted because of a ruling by the Attorney General's Department advising that physicians' commitment is not sufficient to keep patients in the institution indefinitely.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Springfield Entertain in Honor of Illinois Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Barr of Isabel, Illinois, and Mr. Jess Ogden of Paris, Illinois, who are visiting in the homes of Mrs. Addie Green of White's Chapel and E. L. Green and family of Retreat, were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Springfield last Monday with a splendid dry party. Among those present on the happy occasion were Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Barr, Mr. Jess Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Green, Mrs. Addie Green, Misses Minnie and Mary Elizabeth Green, Messrs. Ken and John Green, Walker Green, R. B. Waters and Little Hickman and Forrest Lee Green and the host and hostess.

The forenoon was spent in talk and enjoying Victrola and phonograph music. At twelve o'clock all guests and fans of the Odd Fellows were invited to the dining room to make their trip with the team where the table was groaning under its weight of good things to eat; and it is useless to say that every one did justice to the nicely prepared meal.

The afternoon was spent in driving over the city, viewing the many lovely homes of Corsicana and the many, many places of interest. Drives were taken out to the State Home and also to the Odd Fellows' Home, then back to town where they visited the cotton gins and cotton factory. These places were greatly enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Barr and Mr. Ogden as the ginning of cotton was a great curiosity to these people.

Corsicana received some very nice compliments from the Illinois folks. Before returning to their homes in the north they will visit in Lytle, San Antonio and other South Texas points.

MY FRIEND

By Fieldon Julius Starks (Reprinted by request as original by written by the author in 1919) I thank God for a friend. On whom I may ever depend In sunny day or darkest night. In erring wrong or righteous right. Who will be as true in every case. To my back as to my face. I thank Heaven that I know I have such a friend.

Grateful I am for a friend, beside In whom I can wholly confide. For one soul that I can trust. And repose my faith, if I must. In everything I'd say or do. They would be a friend, tried and true. And anywhere along life's way. They can look me in the eye and say: I am, indeed, your friend!

Then when the cares of life are over. While the billows of Eternity roar. And on my bed of death I lay. With the numbered hours gliding away. No sob in the breast or tears in the eye. Do I wish to see as the End draws night. But just that friend when I'm at rest. To fold my hands across my breast. Friend unto death indeed!

MCARVER ELECTED DIRECTOR CHAMBER COMMERCE TUESDAY

E. D. McCarver, president of the Corsicana Steam Laundry and also of the Natatorium, Inc., long-time resident of Corsicana and active in civic affairs, was unanimously elected a member of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce to fill an unexpired term at the regular meeting of the Chamber Board Thursday morning.

Mr. McCarver was recently chairman of the Corsicana good will visitations to Wortham and the bridge celebration on the Trinity river.

Leading an informal discussion on the junior college, a subject that has engaged the attention of Navarro county citizens interested in education for some time, A. A. Allison pointed out that while interest is still strong of the subject the inability thus far to get needed legislation made the problem difficult to solve.

It was pointed out that the committee was watching with interest the progress being made by some Texas cities with municipal junior colleges but the opinion still prevailed that a junior college with a broader scope is greatly desired.

Road Interest Strong.
Correspondence was read to the directors concerning the road activities in McLennan, Freestone and Henderson counties, indicating that each of these neighboring counties were actively behind road programs, all of which are of deep concern to Navarro county.

Brief reports of progress being made on the Navarro county program were made informally by Judge Lee Jester and J. L. Halbert of the road committee.

W. H. Hastings made a motion that the Chamber of Commerce cooperate with local industries in arranging a Corsicana radio program to be broadcast from the Industrial Building on October 29 at the Dallas Fair over station WRR, in connection with the plan developed by A. G. Akroyd, editor of Texas Products.

A suggestion from President Charles G. Jester of the Rotary Club explaining that the Rotary Club would like to cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce in arranging an old-fashioned Corsicana homecoming within the next few months, received with favorable interest.

The directors voted to sponsor the observance of Fire Prevention Week and also of Safety Week as has been the custom for several years and President Marks appointed special committees to handle the same.

Mayor Murchison, who is chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee, with W. P. Brown, Chief Elmer Keith, W. H. Norwood, and Ed M. Polk, to handle the details of Safety Week. President Marks named H. R. Fillers, chairman, Chief W. S. Knight, C. N. Olsen, Robert Cooksey and Scout Executive A. H. Watts.

On motion of Mayor Murchison the Board extended their sincere thanks to E. D. McCarver for his recent community service in heading up committees which arranged good will visitations to Wortham and Trinity river bridge opening.

President Marks was authorized to send a message of fellowship to F. N. Drane, who was absent from the meeting because of illness in a Dallas sanitarium.

Directors present were Sydney Marks, A. A. Allison, W. H. Hastings, Lowry Martin, Lee Jester, J. S. Murchison, W. P. McCammon, J. L. Halbert, J. B. Fortson, H. D. Fillers, together with Secretary W. Roy Christian and the newly elected director, E. D. McCarver.

Directors unable to attend the meeting were J. N. Garlity, R. J. Jackson, W. C. Stroube, L. C. Coulson and F. N. Drane.

MAN AND WIFE GET JUDGMENT AGAINST POLICE SERGEANT

By Associated Press.
Cleveland, O., Sept. 27.—Judgment for $3,975 was awarded today by a common pleas court jury to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mack, who had brought suit against Police Sergeant Frank L. Rolfe, alleging that he arrested them and had them jailed when he found them kissing in their parked automobile.

The verdict was returned after the jury had deliberated more than two hours yesterday and most of this morning.

One night in July last year Mr. and Mrs. Mack, a young couple, were returning from a picnic with several other persons. Sergeant Rolfe and a police squad were out looking for a gang of rowdies.

Lights were suddenly thrown upon Mack upon her husband's lap in the act of kissing him.

Sergeant Rolfe dragged them from the car and took them to jail where they were held six hours. The Macks testified that he thought the Macks were fibbing about being married because he never heard of a man and wife being so loving.

FEDERAL TROOPS KEPT BUSY VARIOUS PARTS OF REPUBLIC

By Associated Press.
Mexico City, Sept. 29.—Dispatches today told of actions involving Mexican Federal troops in widely separated regions of the republic and for as widely varied reasons.

In the State of Jalisco, on the West Coast, troops fought two engagements with rebels described as "Catholic fanatics." This term has repeatedly appeared in military communications since the outbreak of the struggle over the government's religious regulations. Catholic leaders, however, have consistently stated that their struggle was a peaceful one and that their followers were not authorized to use force.

Thirty-four rebels were killed in the two combats. The first one at Los Mezquites and the second at Portezuelo. In the Los Mezquites fight the rebels, headed by a Catholic priest, Father Sedano, resisted the troops from entrenchments for four hours before fleeing, with the loss of fourteen killed. Two, including Sedano, were captured and executed.

Eighteen Are Killed.
In the second engagement, 250 rebels under Alberto Parajás, Francisco Losa Florencio Zaragoza and Jesus Nunez attacked the Federalists under Colonel Ortiz Sevilla. Repulsed, they fled to the mountains, leaving eighteen dead and many wounded.

In the neighboring State of Nayarit, troops have been obliged to protect American lives and property at the Amajac gold and silver mines near Ixtlan del Rio. The orders were issued after representations by the American Embassy, which was informed that rebels and agitators were endangering Americans in that region.

Across the country, on the East coast, troops have left Vera Cruz city for Jalapa, capital of Vera Cruz State with the reported object of deposing the government of Heriberto Jara in pursuance of a resolution adopted by the State Legislature.

The legislature's action is said to be connected with the strike of school teachers which began in Vera Cruz Monday with the support of the labor unions to enforce demand for payment of overdue salaries.

The charge by Candido Aguilar, former foreign minister, that Venustiano Carranza met his death in the 1920 revolution at the hands of General Rodolfo Herrero, has drawn from Herrero a demand for public proof of the accusation.

Claims Carranza's Suicide.
Gen. Herrero claims that he has documentary evidence that the former president took his own life at Tlaxcalantongo, on May 21, 1920, while fleeing from the victorious Obregon troops. Carranza, he says, committed suicide rather than be captured.

Unless Senor Aguilar publicly proves his charge, Gen. Herrero declares, he will challenge him to a duel, and if a meeting of honor is declined, will give him a thrashing.

Press dispatches at the time said Carranza was assassinated, and his biographer, Peter in the Encyclopedia Britannica concludes with the statement that he was killed while trying to escape from the country. Herrero, as commander of the pursuing troops, has consistently stated that the fugitive president took his own life.

BENNETT J. DOTY, MEMBER OF FRENCH LEGION, IS FREED
By Associated Press.
Paris, Sept. 27.—Bennett J. Doty, who enlisted in the French Foreign Legion under the name of Gilbert Clare, and was court-martialed in Syria in August, 1926, being sentenced to eight years in prison, has been pardoned by the French government.

Bennett J. Doty, whose home was in Memphis, Tenn., was the center of a vivid episode in the French Foreign Legion which took place last year during the French fighting with the Syrians. Doty, who is 26, is a veteran of the World War, having served with Battery E, 15th Field Artillery, 30th Division.

Doty, while serving with the French Foreign Legion, left the French lines in Southern Syria, where a campaign was under way, and was arrested with several companions on the charge of "abandoning his post before armed rebels."

He was imprisoned in Damascus and for a time fears were entertained that he might be sentenced to death.

On June 7 Ambassador Herrick at Paris was instructed by Secretary Kellogg to intercede with the French government in behalf of Doty, who was stated to have made an excellent record in France as a soldier in the American army. His trial took place at Damascus before a court martial on July 16 and he was sentenced to eight years imprisonment at hard labor.

An officer representing the government as prosecutor had demanded the death penalty, while another officer for the defense asked for a suspended sentence, describing the brave conduct of Doty prior to his defection and pointing out that he had gained the Croix de guerre.

For a correspondent for the Associated Press that his "momentary desertion" was caused not by cowardice but by acute homesickness.

INTERESTING NOTES OF JOHN PICKETT'S EARLY DAY HISTORY

John Pickett was born in December 20, 1836, in Shelby County, Ala. Settled on Cypress Creek, Harrison County. He lived there in 1841. Was living there in time of the Regulating and Moderating War that was in Shelby. His neighbors Wheatstone and Capt. Bollweaver were in the Moderating War. Mr. Pickett only lived in Shelby one year. He then moved to Panola County where his father, a rude log cabin. Soon after moving into it an old man by the name of Allen living about eight or ten miles came one afternoon and told them to come to his house without delay that there were Indians in the country and had killed all of the family which were living about five miles. Except two girls. The two girls were jumping, going, distance, from the house when they spied the Indians and made their escape through the woods.

Later Mr. Pickett's father came home bringing a deer he had killed that morning. His wife had the horses saddled when he got there so they packed the clothing and provisions on the horses. Mr. Pickett's father carried the two young boys while his mother carried the youngest child and Mr. Pickett rode one of the pack horses. They traveled on till a late hour in the night when Mr. Pickett's father suggested that they better camp for the night as they might attract the Indians with the noise, so they waited under the branches of a large tree. Mr. Pickett's father and mother both with sun in hand and the little children on a pallet at their feet. At the first signs of day they resumed their journey and arrived at Mr. Allen's early next morning. There they found Mr. Allen, Selin, Strout and others waiting for Mr. Pickett's father to accompany them. They were going to follow the Indians. They followed till late that evening and discovered several more trails leading into the main one. It was evident they were far out numbered by the Indians, so they turned back.

Mr. Allen had a large log house with port notes made to shoot through several neighbors decided to clear land on Mr. Allen's farm and all stay there for protection. That fall Mr. Pickett's father decided to move South West on Navadad Creek. He lived there one year and then moved to what was called Lavaca Creek, while living there his father joined the Rangers under Ben McCullough. There were Guss Williams, Zumwalt, Roundtree and others. This was in 1849.

While in camp the war between Mexico and U. S. was declared. Capt. McCullough called for volunteers, but Mr. Pickett's father was sick and could not go. From there he moved to a place called the O'Bar place, a log house that had been built by the O'Bar family. The Indians had run the family away but luckily none of them were killed. A hired man spied the Indians approaching and warned the people so they all fled in the dark. Mr. Pickett lived there till 1847. There was a large bear just a short distance from the house and often they could look out their window and see the whole hill covered in bears. Wild horses would pass in great droves also. Some of the most beautiful horses one ever beheld.

From there Mr. Pickett moved to Navarro County. He lived there two years and then moved to Anderson County. While there he got acquainted with Adrin Anglin. The man that carried the remainder of the woman and children that was left at Fort Parker to Fort Houston, a distance of about eighty miles. Mr. Anglin was a Sunday School teacher of Mr. Pickett's. They then moved to Mt. Pisgah, situated in the southwest portion of Navarro County, which was a very beautiful county at that time. It was a high mountainous country covered with luxuriant forest that grew about two feet higher than any other different colored flowers that it reminded one of a vast flower garden. The animals and cattle that roamed the hills in those days were all fat, sleek and glossy. Mr. Pickett had stood on a high bluff that overlooked the valley and had seen hundreds of buffalo grazing beneath.

At one time Mr. Pickett was going to mill a distance of about fifteen miles when he heard a distant roaring sound and his horse began to lift his ears and prance. The noise grew louder and finally the horse began to run. It wasn't very long till a great herd of buffalo passed to the right of Mr. Pickett, bending saplings and breaking branches in their way. Mr. Pickett was at this time about ten years of age. Wild game of all kinds was very plentiful then. Wild honey was also to be found in abundance.

Mr. Pickett's father died soon after moving to Mt. Pisgah, his mother passing away some years before. Not being anything left at home to detain him he started working for himself. He hired out to people in 1858. He then hired to people in Meridian in Boone County. He stayed two nights of each week with John Harlin. While at that time he met George T. Jester, a lad of about twelve years of age. He also met many other old settlers of Corsicana including Colonel Riggs, Major Beaton, Capt. Winkler and others. Capt. Winkler married a widow of old Tom L. Smith, a noted Indian fighter.

In 1860 Mr. Pickett hired to Jesse Roberts. He then worked a share crop with him till 1861. The Civil War was then declared and he joined under Capt. Winkler, went to Virginia and joined General Lee's army. He then served till 1862 being wounded in the battle of Gaines Mill. He got a furlough and then came to Texas. After he came back Vicksburg fell and that kept him from going back to his company for awhile. Men were then ordered to join troops on this side. Mr. Pickett joined Capt. McKee's Company, a good and brave outfit. That was in Arkansas. The men were sent back to Texas. Mr. Pickett's wound was not entirely healed and was giving him trouble so he was prevented from going back with his Company to Arkansas. When he got better he was determined to go back to his old command in Virginia. Capt. Smith was in the meantime on this side getting recruits for Hood's Texas Brigade. Capt. Smith, Camel, Jim Bolton and Mr. Pickett were hid in a secret place on this side of the river awaiting till the gun boats were out of sight so they could cross. Mr. Pickett and Jim Bolton with four horses crossed to the other side but were shot at while crossing. They ran over the levee and were safe. Capt. Smith and Mr. Camel came after dark. After that there wasn't any more trouble till after they got to Lee's army.

Mr. Pickett was in four or five battles but wasn't hurt. A bullet struck his rifle close to his face once but didn't touch him. He later got a discharge on account of his old wound giving him trouble. That was in February, two months before Lee surrendered. He then came home and settled eight miles south of Corsicana where he now lives. He started farming as a trade and now owns several farms and his cattle.

HEIR TO REYNOLDS TOBACCO MILLIONS WAS ON VACATION

By Associated Press.
St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 28.—Search for Richard J. Reynolds, one of the heirs to the Reynolds tobacco millions, ended here last night in a quiet booth of a Grand Avenue restaurant.

Private detectives found Reynolds dining with a pretty young woman who later vanished, and with a man who identified himself as Fashaw Jones.

It was Jones, a race track acquaintance of Reynolds, who told the Hargrave detective agency to Reynolds, whereabouts. Earlier in the day Jones offered to produce Reynolds for $3,000. The agency, after getting in touch with the trustee of the Reynolds estate, agreed to pay the money. The finding of young Reynolds posed a search which had sprung from New York to Chicago, St. Louis, Southern Illinois and Florida. At first when one of the detectives asked him if he were not the missing president of the Reynolds Airways, Inc., Reynolds made a sharp denial. When the question of his identity was asked, he merely had been on vacation and had been living under an assumed name to prevent being "hotheaded."

Reynolds Leaves Hurriedly.
After being questioned at the office of the detective agency, Reynolds left in an automobile with such speed that a pursuing newspaperman's car was easily outdistanced. He said he was leaving for New York today.

"I told Captain Manville Davis where I was going," he expostulated. "I haven't done anything criminal. If the man in New York whom I told where I was going had merely delivered a message, this wouldn't have happened."

Reynolds, who is 21 years old, explained that he had gone to Chicago to see the Tunney-Dempsey fight. From there he came to St. Louis.

The detective agency said "Some more investigating would be done" before the $3,000 was paid to Jones.

MYSTERY OF BLACK BAG FOUND CLOSE TO GRAVE CLEARED UP

By Associated Press.
Childress, Texas, Sept. 28.—The mystery of the black bag reported found near the shallow grave of the buried red-haired girl near Fredericksburg has been cleared up here by Sheriff John Compton.

Compton received a long distance call from Austin and went to the residence of an unnamed farmer near Toll, south of Childress. Ownership of the bag is said by Compton to have been readily admitted.

The man declared that he and his wife were driving from South of San Antonio past Fredericksburg to Childress a few days before the tragedy was discovered. He noted the bag was missing from their car and turned back to find it.

Soon they met several truck loads of Mexicans on their way to Snyder to pick cotton. One Mexican admitted having seen the bag and the others denied it.

The man, believing it hopeless to continue the search, headed his car around and came to Childress county.

Sheriff Compton says the story is straight forward and that he believes it.

THREE VETERANS OF NORTH BRING FLAG TO SOUTH

By Associated Press.
Miami, Fla., Sept. 27.—On a mission of peace, three blue clad veterans of the North came to the camp of the former enemy today to play a prominent role in the thirty-seventh annual reunion of the Florida Division, United Confederate Veterans.

They brought a blood-stained, tattered flag, captured from a Florida brigade at the battle of Franklin, Tenn., November 30, 1864. Which, after more than a score of years in captivity at Toledo, Ohio, as a Union trophy of victory, is to be returned to the survivors of those who fought under it.

The emissaries, who were commissioned for the duty by official order of the Toledo Camp of the Grand Army of the Republic were Colonel W. W. Alcorn, Emory D. Potter and Eli Bourde, members of the 11th Ohio Infantry, which wrested the banner from its defenders, the First Florida Cavalry and Infantry regiments.

The Transcontinental Lewis 1 swabbed 200 barrels in 19 hours, gravity 38.1 also without B. S. or water.

The Why Not 44 Company's Lewis No. 1 stopped flowing after producing oil for several hours. The derrick is being skidded 300 feet north at the center of the Lewis lease for a new location and a steel derrick will be erected over No. 1.

The Why Not 44's Rhea 1 has resumed drilling at 680 feet after being shut down for water to repair a pump.

Cranfill & Reynolds are coring in their Dugger No. 1 at 2860. Reiter-Lewis-Moutray cores a broken sand in their Dugger No. 1 at 2870 feet and are preparing to set pipe. The Transcontinental Dugger 1 is waiting for cement at 2820. The J. K. Hughes Developing Company's Lewis No. 1 is drilling in surface rock at 70 feet.

The Farrison et al Williams 1, southeast of the field, is rigging up.

LEGIONNAIRES PAY TRIBUTE OF HONOR TO ITALIAN DEAD

Rome, Sept. 28.—Pope Pius today received the American Legion party visiting Rome and gave them a most cordial welcome to the Eternal City.

The reception of the American veterans at the Vatican was most picturesque. A great crowd gathered in St. Peter's Square despite a hot sun to see the Legionnaires pass, applauding them as they entered the Apostolic palace.

When the flags of the Americans reached the courtyard of St. Damaso, the Papal gendarmes and the Palantine guard rendered military honors. Led by the Papal master of ceremonies and preceded by Monsignor Burke and Vice Rector Breslin, all mounted the snow-white staircase with the Swiss Guards in their multi-colored uniforms standing on either side with their bayonets at present arms.

Monsignor Burke presented the leaders of the Legionnaires with whom the Pope exchanged kind words, speaking especially with Howard P. Savage, retiring commander of the Legion. The Pontiff took great interest in the flag of the Legionnaires, examining it and repeating the words printed on it.

The Pope then sat on the throne and delivered a short address in which he thanked the Legionnaires for having come to see him.

He was very glad to review the Legionnaires "not as a military but as a paternal review," he continued. Smiling he added "thus making the personal acquaintance with each of you representing millions of Americans so dear to my heart." The Pope said he was indeed gratified that such a large representation of Americans would come from such a distant country. He said he was also pleased because their presence recalled two facts of particular interest in the history of the world: "First the World War, second, the contribution given by young America—still young luckily for her—in that decisive moment for the future of old Europe and of the whole world."

By Associated Press.
Rome, Sept. 28.—Marching between cheering lines of soldiers, 250 members of the American Legion, headed by Commander Howard P. Savage, proceeded to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier today to pay their tribute to the one who represents Italy's sacrifice in the World War.

Henry P. Fletcher, the American Ambassador, stood beside Commander Savage and the other Legion dignitaries during the ceremony, at which the Italian army, navy, air force and Italian militia were largely represented.

The Americans deposited on the tomb a wreath with ribbons in the American and Italian colors.

ACTION OF SOVIET AUTHORITIES CAUSE AMERICAN PROTEST
By Associated Press.
Constantinople, Sept. 28.—Twenty-eight employees of the American Near East Relief in Russian Armenia have been arrested by the Soviet authorities, who received the Soviet authorities' advice received at the offices of the organization here today, stated.

A majority of those imprisoned were teachers in American orphanages, the advice said. No reason for the arrests was given by the Soviet authorities, except that they were acting under orders from Moscow.

It is reported here the Soviet authorities charge the Near Eastern relief employees with violating the government decree which prohibits the religious teaching of Christians.

The Soviet action was declared a violation of the provisions of the mandate under which the Near East relief is working in Soviet Armenia and the American officers of the relief are preparing a protest in order to obtain the release of their personnel.

PARADE OF LEGION MEMBERS IN LONDON CAUSES TRAFFIC JAM

By Associated Press.
London, Sept. 27.—The people of London gave a wildly enthusiastic reception to a delegation of nearly 150 American Legion members from New York who marched through the streets this afternoon causing a difficult traffic problem.

The American Legionnaires, in bright uniforms and bearing flags, "fell in" in the great Scotland Yard while a crowd which had followed them from their hotel in Trafalgar Square became more dense each minute, holding up White Hall traffic.

After placing a wreath on the Cenotaph, the American Legionnaires visited the tomb of the unknown warrior in Westminster Abbey.

PRESIDENT FEELS THAT GOOD MAY BE RESULT OF ARTICLE

By Associated Press.
Washington, Sept. 27.—President Coolidge has found some good criticism in the recent magazine article of Rear Admiral Magruder, but does not agree with his conclusion that the Navy is over officered.

It was said that Mr. Coolidge, the President's chief desire is to build up a Navy to the needs of the nation and not to reduce expenditures, but to spend money appropriated in the most efficient way.

He was said to be without information as to whether the Navy actually is over officered, but believes it will have plenty of officers on hand, particularly in view of the length of time required to train officers.

It was said at the White House does not consider that maintenance of a large staff of officers in Washington is of much consequence unless they have nothing to do.

As to the points raised by Admiral Magruder in his Saturday Evening Post article, the President was reported as believing some of the officer's suggestions would be helpful in increasing the efficiency of the Navy and that others were worthy of investigation.

He also was said to be of the opinion the article was written with a sincere desire to improve conditions in the Navy and he would be gratified if good resulted from its publication.

For a while, after Admiral Magruder's article was published, it appeared that he might be disciplined for failure to submit it to Secretary Wilbur beforehand, but yesterday it was announced that the Navy Department that there would be no disciplinary action.

TARIFF DIFFERENCES BETWEEN FRANCE AND U. S. NOT SETTLED

By Associated Press.
Washington, Sept. 28.—Publication of the French-American tariff correspondence, previously arranged for tomorrow, has been deferred until Monday at the request of the French government.

Indications are that the French reply to the most recent American request for negotiations of a most favored nation commercial treaty will not be submitted by the Paris authorities until late in the week and probably will not be transmitted to Washington before next week.

In the meantime the Paris government is averse to publication of the notes already exchanged, although the Washington authorities have been anxious to make these communications public as little delay as possible.

FORMER RESIDENT OF CORSICANA DIED SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Mary L. Hogg for more than thirty years resident of Corsicana, died at the home of her son, R. B. Hogg in Hillsboro Sunday after a short illness.

Mrs. Hogg was born near Birmingham, Ala., seventy-five years ago. In early womanhood she was married to Mr. Jno. Stuart and for a number of years resided in Mobile, Ala.

After the death of her husband she moved to Texas and was married to J. B. Hogg at Brenham. She and her husband spent most of their married life in Corsicana, having lived only a short time in South Texas.

Her husband, J. B. Hogg, died here in 1918 and after his death she spent the remainder of her life with her son, Robert, Hogg, at Hillsboro, where she lived happily surrounded by friends and her beloved grandchildren.

Mrs. Hogg and her husband were devout members of the Methodist Church. During their early residence here they were active members of First Church, Methodist, but when the call came for a mission church in South Corsicana, they volunteered their services, leaving First Church and placing their membership with Eleventh Avenue Methodist. They were devoted to the little church, loyal and sacrificing, giving of their time and money for its advancement.

Much could be said of the admirable characteristics of this noble woman. A Southern patriot, true to Christian ideals, practicing those sweet virtues that shed a radiant benediction upon hearth and home; a friend of all classes; kindly and charitable in speech as well as deed, courteous, tolerant, a cultured woman, a loyal member of the old South.

Corsicana and the friends here always occupied a warm place in the heart of Mrs. Hogg and her frequent visits to the neighborhood friends were very pleasant and much appreciated by her former loved associates.

This venerable woman was laid to rest in the beautiful cemetery at Hillsboro, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the presence of her loved ones and many friends who deeply feel her loss. Many beautiful flowers were placed upon her grave as a last tribute of love and devotion to her memory.

CORSICANA HAS BIG HEART; ORPHAN GIRL WILL GET EDUCATION

In Monday afternoon's Daily Sun there appeared an appeal signed by A. A. Allison in which it was stated that an orphan girl, graduate of the State Home school, was in need of funds for securing a college education; that she had won a scholarship and had secured a place to work for her board but needed some money for other purposes. Those interested were asked to get in touch with Mr. Allison and he would give them the particulars.

Tuesday Mr. Allison came into the Sun office with a broad smile on his face and evident joy in his heart. "Corsicana people are the best in the world," were his first words. "You told me Monday when I asked publication of the appeal for funds to aid the State Home girl to secure an education that I would get results. You were right. Several widows, several men and two young women volunteered their aid. In all I have had about one dozen calls already, some calling over the phone, while others called to see me personally. The young girl will get her chance at an education, thanks to the generosity of Corsicana people."

It was stated that a prominent young business man of Corsicana who is always ready to heed the call of distress or ready to aid in any good cause, went out to Mr. Allison's home after the appeal had been read in the Sun, prepared to end his aid and his aid was accepted and the matter taken in hand by Mr. Allison to carry out.

"It merely shows that Corsicana people are always willing to aid young people in securing a higher education when they show the desire therefor," said Mr. Allison, and he continued: "That is another reason, too, why the junior college matter should be taken up at once and pushed to a successful end. There are many cases like this where the public never hears about it."

If we had a junior college they could get at least two years of college education at home. We could then take care of the worthy cases in a better way and there would be no need of any deserving boy or girl who had a real desire for a higher education going without at least two years in college."

Mr. Allison, who is leading in the matter of securing a junior college for Corsicana and Navarro county, is still enthusiastic over this idea although the legislature failed to enact the bill desired by Mr. Allison and others familiar with and backing the matter, he is still sanguine of success. At any rate Mr. Allison is convinced that Corsicana people are still just about the best and most generous people in the world.

Champion Fish Yarn Of Season Is Little Late But a Whopper

It is a little late for fish stories but the champion yarn spinner of the season has made his appearance and is hereby officially awarded the fabled bath tub.

Introducing Mr. Kelly McKewen, the champion, who will meet all comers at any weight.

According to the official story as related by Kelly, he, with his family, took an automobile outing Sunday which carried them to a lake near Weatherford. This sylvan spot, studded with the placid lake, is ideal for those who love Mother Nature, and the great open spaces. The party arrived in shipshape—pitched their camp and as the noon hour had arrived partook of the midday meal with a relish that only comes with a day's outing. At the conclusion of the meal the younger members of the party strolled to the water's edge, being drawn to that point by the strange actions of a man clothed in a bathing suit. Kelly said he watched from a distance for a time and then decided to investigate. He could see the man standing in the water apparently reaching down, scooping something from the lake and handing this something to those on the shore.

Kelly said when he arrived at the scene of action great to his amazement he found the man literally surrounded by large fish which he was reaching down, plucking from the water with his hands and then passing them to the shore.

According to Kelly this fish picker was using a small ball of oatmeal for bait, held between his wrists with his hands spread at an angle of 45 degrees and when Mr. Fish nosed his way between the open hands to nibble the oatmeal, the fish picker by the simple movement of closing the V-shaped trap made by his hands held Mr. Fat Fish securely and the passing of the catch on to the shore was a matter of seconds. The fish were plentiful, according to Kelly, but the writer left before the yarn spinner told how many truck loads of the finny tribe were extracted from the lake in this inexpensive and efficient manner.

A word to those who might look upon this yarn as fiction. There has never been any occasion to doubt the veracity of Mr. McKewen—he has resided in this city and county for many years, and he is a member of the board of stewards of the First Methodist church.

The Royall Coffee Company of Corsicana will begin on September 30th to celebrate its anniversary of thirty years in Texas and fifteen years in Corsicana, the big event to continue through October 8th. Plans for this celebration will cover the entire territory of this popular brand of coffee, with every store in Corsicana and throughout the territory being tied into the celebration in a substantial and profit bearing manner.

Royall's "King of the Cup" Coffee will be crowned King of the anniversary celebration, and will be the feature performer throughout the nine days of extensive exploitation, and here is how this most popular, high grade coffee on the market today in this section will be featured:

Beginning September 30th the merchants throughout the distribution of Royall's King of the Cup Coffee will give "free" to the purchaser of every pound of coffee five cents worth of merchandise and fifteen cents worth of merchandise with every three pound can of "King of the Cup." All you will have to do to get this free merchandise is to include Royall's King of the Cup Coffee in your order and you will be given the free merchandise as above stated. You have the choice of any merchandise you wish in this liberal offer, which will mean a great saving. Every one should avail themselves of this great celebration, and put in a big supply of this high grade coffee.

Home Institution

The fact that The Royall Coffee Company is a home institution, and is one of our largest assets in the Corsicana district, gives this institution 100 per cent distribution in Corsicana, with the most progressive and substantial merchants of the trade territory carrying large stocks at all times. The slogan that will be featured throughout this celebration will be "What Navarro County Makes—Makes Navarro County" and "What Texas Makes—Makes Texas." There is no better slogan that could have been adopted.

During the thirty years in the coffee roasting business President J. N. Royall of the Royall Coffee Company has advanced rapidly in the coffee business, having the distinction of operating in Texas the first wholesale coffee roasting plant in Taylor, Texas, after which he operated the big coffee roasting plant of the Cooper Grocery Company of Waco, one of the largest wholesale houses in Texas. Following his connection with the above firm President Royall opened his big plant in Corsicana fifteen years ago, and his business has been growing substantially ever since, with his "King of the Cup Coffee" holding a most prominent place in the shelves of the most progressive merchants, who during the anniversary celebration will feature this brand of coffee in their stores and show windows. All the members of the institution are on their tips to make the celebration a great success with seven aggressive salesmen working throughout the trade territory getting the merchants lined up for the event.

Wins Many Prizes

At this anniversary celebration it might be well to remind the users of Royall's King of the Cup Coffee, as well as the public in general, that this high grade coffee was awarded the first premium at the Texas Cotton Palace in 1912, as well as was awarded a perfect pure food seal of 100 points at the Dallas Pure Food Exposition in 1914. It might also be interesting to relate that in a contest held in New York City by the biggest coffee roasters of the nation the following test that was made:

In a contest for quality Royall's King of the Cup brand was drawn blind against all of the best selling high grade coffees, and was one of two selected as the best, and between the two brands selected there was no decision given by the committee, a name as to which was the better. This contest was held in New York City in 1915, and the same high grade coffee has been sold ever since. At this time President J. N. Royall and the entire official family of the Royall Coffee Co. should be congratulated on the progress they have made in the coffee world, and on the high grade products turned out by their institution.

At this time the Royall Coffee Co. is broadcasting by radio (WJAD) at Waco between 12:30 and 1:30 noon in which they tell of how coffee is blended and roasted, in which Corsicana is featured as being the home of the "King of the Cup" Coffee.

In Memory of Mrs. Homer Cates

Leaves have their fall, and flowers to wither—At the north wind's call and stars to set. But thou hast all seasons for thine own, O Death!

Our entire community was saddened when the news reached us of the homing of our friend and loved one, Mrs. Leona Cates (nee Leona McCulloch). We were not prepared for the news of her death. She had only been sick such a few short days. Everything was done for her that friends and loved ones could do but God in His infinite mercy saw fit to call her to fill the place in Heaven that he wanted to complete. He took our dear friend to fill that vacant seat.

We know not why the death angel should visit this dear little best. And hush the heart of a mother. The gentlest, the kindest, the best. But our great Father is just. And 'twas He who called her above. And now in the dusk of the evening He fills aching hearts with His love.

Oh! She was young, happy and gay. With a kind word for everyone. Not an enemy had she made. As the race of life she had run. Oh, Mother, Father, Brothers and Sisters.

Will grieve o'er the vacant place. And friends which are many and dear. Will miss her dear smiling face. But to the grief of the husband Can any other grief compare. For his homelight has been darkened.

Leaving a great vacancy there. The dear little children will miss her.

More than their little tongues can tell. And a husband and children together.

Shall always dream of darling Leona.

But some day when God in Heaven Has finished with all of us here We, too, shall cross that great ocean.

And meet her again over there.

HER FRIENDS.

Elijah On Mount Carmel

1 Kings 18: 30-39

1 Kings 18: 30. And Elijah said unto all the people, Come near unto me; and all the people came near unto him. And he repaired the altar of Jehovah that was thrown down.

31. And Elijah took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Jacob, unto whom the word of Jehovah came, saying, Israel shall be thy name.

32. And with the stones he built an altar in the name of Jehovah; and he made a trench about the altar, as great as would contain two measures of seed.

33. And he put the wood in order, and cut the bullock in pieces, and laid it on the wood. And he said Fill four jars with water, and pour it on the burnt offering, and on the wood.

34. And he said do it the second time; and they did it the second time. And he said, Do it the third time; and they did it the third time.

35. And the water ran round about the altar; and he filled the trench also with water.

36. And it came to pass at the time of the offering of the evening oblation, that Elijah the prophet came near, and said, O Jehovah, the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob, let it be known this day that thou art God in Israel, and that I am thy servant, and that I have done all these things at thy word.

37. Hear me, O Jehovah, hear me, that this people may know that thou, Jehovah, art God, and that thou hast turned their hearts back again.

38. Then the fire of Jehovah fell, and consumed the burnt offering, and the wood and the stones, and the dust, and licked up the water that was in the trench.

39. And when all the people saw it, they fell on their faces; and they said, Jehovah, he is God; Jehovah, he is God.

Golden Text.—Choose you this day whom ye will serve.—Josh. 24:15.

(Text is from the American Standard Edition of the Revised Bible copyright, 1901, by Thomas Nelson & Sons, and used by permission.)

An editor who has spent thirty years fighting the right things and is still on the job, said to me a few days ago: "I am through with reformers. The next fellow who comes to me and wants me to help lead a campaign for the purifying of politics, for the revival of religion, or to make water run up hill, is going to get a mighty cold reception. I am tired of being the goat and helping to elect reformers to office and having them lie down on me. The reformer has hooked me for the last time."

I know exactly how this man felt. I have been through the same fights and with the same results. I have seen the reformers quit while the other side never quits, and if you are an editor you can't quit. I know all about it. I know also that my friend, who is just now discouraged a bit, perhaps, will be in the front ranks as long as he lives, fighting for right things.

The situation my friend complains of is not new. It is as old as human nature, as old as the fight between right and wrong, as old as the struggle between puritanism and immorality, as old as the war between the individual conscience and despotism.

In the ninth century before Christ, the kingdom of Israel had fallen into a very dangerous situation. It was prosperous enough, but there was no restraint upon the people. The laws were flouted. Drunkenness was rife, especially in the houses of the great. Cruelty and debauchery marked the day.

King Ahab, who by virtue of his position should have been the religious leader of the people, had married the daughter of the Phoenician king, Ethbaal. She was a woman of ability and one accustomed to have her own way. Ahab was either very much in love with his queen, or was very much afraid of her. He permitted her to establish her religion, set up idols and persecute the priests of Jehovah. The priests lived only because an official had been bold enough to hide a hundred of them in caves and surreptitiously feed them.

Then came Elijah. I like Elijah. He was a rough and ready, a very sudden man. We do not know who he was, what family he came from or anything much about him. He was big, ugly and whiskery. He cared nothing for style and his cloak flapped about his legs. One day he suddenly appeared before King Ahab and denounced the king and the queen and all her works and promised that there should be no rains for four years.

It has often occurred to me that we take rain for granted. We do not know where the rain comes from or what makes it come. I know the theory about the clouds and the air currents and all that, but I have never quite figured out how tons and tons of water can be held suspended in a cloud one may drive through in an airplane. Suppose that some power should stop all rain for four years. We might not starve in four years, but we would be in a mighty bad fix. A lot of us would not have assumed that position in a long time would be on our knees.

Israel was in a heap of trouble at the end of four years drought when Elijah suddenly appeared again before the king. The king accused him of being the cause of all Israel's troubles, and Elijah handed it right back at him. Once I was fighting a gang of politicians who were robbing the country blind. Some of the leaders came to me and said: "You are ruining the party. These very same fellows had already ruined the party. The lawyer appeals to the jury in the name of the innocent and helpless mother and children of the criminal."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.—2 final. The jury did not put the mother and children where they were. It is an old excuse. "You trouble of Israel."

Then Elijah arranged a duel with the pet preachers of Jezebel and the result was that he killed about five hundred of them, and then it rained.

I have never yet been able to understand why Elijah ran into the city before the king's chariot after he had won his fight and the rain was coming. Curiously enough the picture of the prophet, hiking along the dusty road ahead of the king, is the one picture in this whole story which stands out to me and yet I do not know what it means at all.

Elijah's challenge rings across the intervening years to us today in the United States. He stood forward, a reformer, if you please, in a hostile company and his voice in scorn rang to the people: "How long do you limping between two sides? If the Lord be God, follow him; but if Baal, then follow him." I have little respect for the fence-straddler and it does seem sometimes as if most people are sitting on the fence when an issue comes up. I have more respect for an atheist who honestly believes what he claims to believe and comes out in the open than I have for a Christian who is not enough Christian to come out in front and announce his belief. The early Christians did not straddle the fence, they came out in the open when it was worth their life and liberty to do so. They died for their faith.

The poorest kind of a Christian I know is the one who joins a church for business purposes. If this one were in Turkey he would be a Mohammedan, if he were in China he would join the majority. If all the church members in the United States were to come out for the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead law, demand that enforcement and vote only for men known to be determined for enforcement, the country would be dry before the next election. A lot of us are Democrats or Republicans first and Christians if it is convenient. Being a Christian does not put you in line for an office.

When the religion of Jehovah broke down in Israel the kingdom tumbled. It rushed from one calamity to another until today we talk about the ten lost tribes of Israel. We do not know what became of them. Elijah and his successor, Elisha, were great and fearless reformers of their day, but they could not stem the tide. It was the struggle of right against wrong, of decency against indecency, of righteousness against unrighteousness.

The struggle is going on in the United States today. Are we going the way this old kingdom followed? Christianity is the answer. Jesus pointed out the way. His system will work. But a lot of us are fence-straddlers. We do not want to stand out and we let the Jezebels make fun of us.

Why longer go limping between two sides? If you are on the side of Christianity, say so. If you are on the side of Baal, say so.

The Bible might happen to be true. The Republic Syndicate.

TEXAS NEEDS MORE LIVESTOCK ON FARMS PLENTY WINTER FEED

Special to the Sun.

College Station, Texas, Sept. 28.—In a recent address President Coolidge made the statement that the size of the farms in the vicinity of his old home in Vermont was measured by the number of cows they would maintain, that is, some men had eight cow farms, other men had twelve cow farms and others might have farms that would be known as twenty cow farms. On these farms all the crops produced are marketed through the medium of the dairy cow. On other farms marketed through beef, sheep, and hogs as well as dairy cows. In Texas unfortunately we market most of our crops in the raw state, and this brings a return which barely covers the cost of production.

In a survey recently made by the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association it was found that dairy cows, after paying for all the expenses for labor, returned 42 per cent above the farm value of the crops fed. Baby beef returned 44 per cent above the farm value of the crops fed. Fattening lambs returned 155 per cent above the cost of labor and feed, and hogs returned 108 per cent above the farm value of the crops fed.

Texas needs more live stock on the farms, but in order to produce live stock economically the farms must produce an abundance of nutritious feed for winter grazing. A. and M. College has recently issued a record book for the purpose of enabling farmers to accurately determine the value of winter grazing crops. Anyone interested in keeping a record of the amount of pasture they can obtain from any

COTTON BROKE $4 PER BALE THURSDAY CARRYOVER REPORT

By Associated Press.
New Orleans, Sept. 29.—A break of approximately $1 a bale occurred in the cotton market today on selling influenced largely by a report from New York that the government had issued a report showing a larger carryover than had been heretofore believed. Hedge selling and selling for a reaction also helped the easier tone. December sold off 21.50 and March to 21.60, 75 to 80 points below the previous close.

Stranger Touches Vice President For Pipe of Tobacco

By Associated Press.
Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 29.—The former banker who is the vice president of the United States, was touched for a new loan last night by a stranger who was attracted by the aroma of the tobacco whose smoke curled up from an underslung pipe.
Ignorant of the fact that the smoker was Vice President Dawes, the stranger asked for the "loan" of a bit of tobacco.
"You bet," said Mr. Dawes, drawing a leather pouch from his hip pocket. "Help yourself and pack it down a little—it goes better that way."

Told a moment later of the identity of his new found friend, the stranger seemed unperturbed, out with the air of a connoisseur of tobacco said:
"Oh, is that so, well he used pretty good tobacco, I'll say that for him."

There were 31,011 bales of the 1927 cotton crop ginned in Navarro county, counting round bales as half bales, prior to September 16, as compared with 6,699 bales at the same time last year, according to figures released Thursday by R. M. Albright, government statistician. This is a gain of 24.31 bales.

DRYS HAVE LARGE MAJORITY IN BOTH HOUSES OF CONGRESS

By Associated Press.
Washington, Sept. 28.—Wets and drys are lining up their forces for a resumption of their annual warfare in Congress.

Neither side made any material progress in the way of legislation at the last session, but the drys are hopeful of getting through some of the administration proposals in the old Goff bill for tightening up the Volstead act.

Conceding that the drys have a preponderance of the votes in both the House and Senate, the wets say there is no parliamentary method by which they can delay a decision as the first session of the new Congress will continue for five or six months, probably until just before the Republican-National convention next June.

However, proponents of additional dry legislation decline to view the new bill with a presidential campaign in the offing the party leaders will not look with any great favor on enactment of more stringent provisions to a law which the wets now charge is impossible of enforcement.

Pro Issue Non-Partisan.
While the prohibition issue is a non-partisan one so far as Congress is concerned, however, it is of national importance, more so now than ever, with little prospect of it being removed in advance of the 1928 presidential election unless it should be that both of the major parties nominated candidates pronouncedly dry.

Just what provisions of the Goff act will be selected by the drys as their battle point in the new Congress remains to be determined, but during the last session, new phases were placed upon those proposals for revocation of liquor permits, for search of dwellings suspected of having been converted into commercial distilling places and for stricter regulation of breweries.

Wets Want Amendments.
While the wets have not yet formulated their full program, it is certain that they will come forward again with amendments to the Volstead act leaving to the courts what is in fact intoxicating beverage, thus removing the one-half of 1 per cent restriction of the law. In other words they would extend to all beverages the provision governing cider and fruit juices.

Another proposal they will press is that removing the restriction of the amount of spirits a physician may prescribe for patients. This measure is in line with one endorsed by the American Medical Association.

The wets will press for a national referendum on the question of repealing the Eighteenth Amendment and modifying the Volstead act which has not yet been determined. But neither these nor any of the other wet proposals have any chance of getting anywhere in the next Congress, which is overwhelmingly dry.

PRO ENFORCEMENT OFFICER MAY KEEP INFORMATION SECRET

By Associated Press.
Washington, Sept. 29.—Prohibition enforcement officials are not required to report to United States attorneys violations of dry laws coming to their knowledge, the government held in a brief filed today in the Supreme Court in an appeal by John P. BURIAL OF LITTLE CHILD OCCURRED IN OAKWOOD TUESDAY

Funeral services for little Barbara Sue Hoffman were held in Oakwood cemetery at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday, September 27. Through several days illness of diphtheria, the dear little child died at its home at 606 South 21st street at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, leaving a broken hearted father and mother, and many relatives, neighbors, and friends.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR POPULAR WOMAN ARE HELD THURSDAY

MRS. J. D. CUNNINGHAM LAID AT REST IN OAKWOOD CEMETERY

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Young Cunningham, aged 58 years, who died at the family residence, 733 West Third avenue, Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, were held from the family home Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with interment in Oakwood cemetery. She had been a resident of Corsicana almost forty years and was a leader in church, civic and social circles for many years.

Mrs. Cunningham had been in ill health for several months. The services were conducted by Dr. C. R. Wright, Fort Worth; Rev. D. K. Porter, Waxahatchie, and Rev. E. P. Culver, pastor of the First Methodist church, Corsicana.

Mrs. Cunningham was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Young. She was born in Grayson county, but the family moved to the Bloomington community when she was a small child. She was married to John D. Cunningham at Bloomington, Sept. 3, 1889, and moved to Corsicana shortly afterward.

Surviving are her husband, two sons, E. Y. Cunningham, Corsicana; Jack Cunningham, Corsicana; two brothers, M. G. Young, Dallas; Frank R. Young, Corsicana; three sisters, Mrs. J. W. Harris, Bloomington; Mrs. W. P. Dunn, and Mrs. S. E. Robinson, both of Corsicana.

Bearers were R. J. Jackson, S. J. Jackson, H. O. Blending, J. N. Edens, R. L. Hamilton and C. S. Stroud.

The First National Bank, the W. M. Tatum Hardware Co., Cunningham Bros. and all offices in the court house were closed Thursday afternoon in honor of the memory of Mrs. Cunningham.

A great concourse of friends and relatives filled the home for the funeral services and followed the body to its last resting place in Oakwood cemetery. A great profusion of beautiful flowers were in evidence and covered the grave, attesting as Tatum & Cunningham, two brothers, M. G. Young, Dallas; Frank R. Young, Corsicana; three sisters, Mrs. J. W. Harris, Bloomington; Mrs. W. P. Dunn, and Mrs. S. E. Robinson, both of Corsicana.

The death of Mrs. Cunningham, while not entirely unexpected by those close to the family, has cast a pall of gloom over the entire city, for she was a woman who had made herself beloved in all walks of life by her unselfish, sunny disposition and lovable christian character and many acts of kindness and charity. She was ever ready to lend assistance to any good cause and had been most active in all branches of work of the First Methodist church for many years, and during her many years of illness her help and counsel has been sorely missed.

Her death was a great loss to the community, for she was a woman who had made herself beloved in all walks of life by her unselfish, sunny disposition and lovable christian character and many acts of kindness and charity. She was ever ready to lend assistance to any good cause and had been most active in all branches of work of the First Methodist church for many years, and during her many years of illness her help and counsel has been sorely missed.

During her illness she has been the tender object of solicitude by her entire family, especially her husband, who has been her almost constant companion throughout her illness. She was naturally cheerful and carried that same cheerfulness throughout, never complaining but continuing to think of others to the exclusion of self.

It can be said in all truth that a good woman who made life brighter for those with whom she came in contact has gone to a well deserved reward after a noble life well lived on this earth.

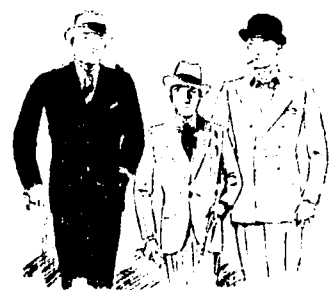

BODY NEGRO WHO ATTACKED WOMAN IS BULLET RIDDLED

By Associated Press.
Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 29.—The bullet riddled body of Thomas Williams, negro, alleged to have attacked a 50 year old white woman near Bartlettville, this county, yesterday morning, was found today in Pleasant Union church yard two miles from the scene of the crime. All day yesterday and far into the night bands of men searched for Williams, but none reported he had been found and there was no clue to the persons who shot him. A coroner's jury returned the verdict that the negro died "from gunshot wounds inflicted by unknown parties."

Williams was said to have attempted to attack the woman in a potato field near her home. He approached her seeking employment and then attacked her, she told officers, but soon was frightened away.

MANY EMPLOYEES NECESSARY HANDLE MAIL NUEVO LAREDO

INTERESTING COMPARISON OF EFFICIENCY MADE BY POSTAL INSPECTOR

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Sept. 29.—It takes 86 employees to handle mail in the Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, postoffice, while 26 handle sixty times as much in the Laredo, Texas, office across the river in shorter time. Carl W. Besserer, postal inspector, reports to his superiors of the Austin federal postal division headquarters here after three weeks inspection at Laredo.

He said the Texas postoffice is in first class shape and shows an increase of 500 per cent in business.

A redeeming feature of the Mexican postal service, he said, is that it has several admirable systems of bookkeeping, requiring the continual service of a host of bookkeepers, one reason for the large force.

There is no civil service in Mexico. Prospective employees are recommended to the postal heads in Mexico City by the inhabitants of the various towns where positions are to be filled. No kind of intelligence examinations are required.

The Nuevo Laredo postoffice is a frame shack with some wood floor but mostly dirt, Besserer reported. It covers an area of approximately 1,600 square feet, but has no protection against burglars. This usually is not needed, however, Besserer said, since the Mexicans seem to be leery of transgressing against the government.

Visit Injured Son At Brownwood

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sitton and son, Jack, have returned from Brownwood where they went to visit Holston Sitton, their son, and R. H. Sitton, brother of H. W. Sitton who were injured some time ago when a truck they were driving fell through a bridge.

Both injured men are getting along as well as could be expected considering the seriousness of their injuries.

EXPANSION PROGRAM IS PLANNED BY NAU HARDWARE COMPANY

The following, which appeared in a recent issue of the Corpus Christi Caller will be of interest in Corsicana as Oscar C. B. Nau resided in this city for a number of years, being secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce.

An expansion and improvement program will be carried out by the Nau Hardware Co., within the next forty days, according to Oscar C. B. Nau, proprietor and manager of the Mesquite street hardware establishment. J. W. Bermingham, contractor, will begin work tomorrow morning on an extension to the rear of the structure which will add 2,000 square feet to the floor space. L. G. Collins, owner of the building, awarded the contract.

The extension is to be used as a salesroom and as a storage place. The enlarged quarters will make possible the addition of stocks of hotel supplies, oil stoves and gas ranges, and refrigerators, etc.

The interior of the present building is to be remodeled and painted and the stock will be rearranged. The front section of the store, 50x62, will have display tables where customers may see and handle the merchandise. This chain-store idea of display is being extended to hardware merchandise. Every piece of goods is to have a price mark on it.

"Increased business makes the expansion imperative," said Mr. Nau yesterday. "Standard brands of goods, small profit, quick turnover and unconditional guarantee on sales have brought about a volume of business which cannot be accommodated under our present merchandising methods."

J. R. Boyd established the hardware company about twenty years ago and for sixteen years the store has been at the present location. When Mr. Nau became owner January 1, 1926, he doubled the volume of business the first year. Bert Boyd has been associated with Mr. Nau in the management of the business.

TWO HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN AUTO CRASH WEDNESDAY

Two people narrowly escaped serious injury about 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when two cars collided at the intersection of West Fifth avenue and North Fourteenth street.

Isaac Levy was driving a sedan east on Fifth avenue when a roadster driven by Mrs. Jordan struck the sedan in the center, turning it over. Only one person was in each car and neither was injured outside of a few bruises.

Levy was thrown off the floor by the force of the collision but received only a few bruises around the shoulders and arms.

The roadster had a badly bent radiator rod, while the sedan had its fenders and running boards crumpled, and a door bent.

"THE ROUGHRIDERS" WILL BE SHOWN HERE AT IDEAL THEATRE

"The Roughriders" will be shown here early in October. This picture was made in San Antonio and is based on the famous regiment that won so much success during the Spanish-American war and the management of the theaters requests all veterans of that war living in Navarro county to register at the Ideal theater for a free pass and it is probable that a moving picture will be made of the veterans after all names have been secured. An early registration is requested.

COMMUNICATION IS ESTABLISHED WITH OLD MEXICO

CORSICANA CITIZENS CAN PLACE LONG DISTANCE CALLS NOW

It is announced by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation that telephone communication between the United States and several of the principal cities of Mexico will be open Friday morning, September 29, at 8 o'clock. It will then be possible to talk from any Bell Telephone point to Mexico City, Puebla, Tampico, San Luis, Potosi, Victoria, Saltillo, Monterrey and Nuevo Laredo. The total length of the cities between Washington and Mexico City is 2,357 miles.

This new service will bring Mexico's capital city and her private seaport, Tampico, and the capitals of some of her richest and most progressive states within the range of American Telephone communication, charge for a three minute station-to-station call from Corsicana to Mexico City will be $7.35.

The Bell System has made arrangements to connect at Laredo, Texas with the newly-completed lines of the Mexican Telephone and Telegraph Company, a subsidiary of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation. At this point the line will be across the Rio Grande which there forms the international boundary.

From Nuevo Laredo, on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, the long distance line runs through some arid regions and farming country, southward to Mexico City and Puebla. It passes through Monterrey, Saltillo, San Luis, Potosi and Queretaro, affording telephone communications to these points. A branch line extends from San Luis Potosi to Tampico, the important oil port on the semi-tropical east coast of Mexico. Another line runs up from Tampico to Victoria.

The Mexican long distance lines have practically all been built within the last year or two and are of thoroughly modern construction. Telephone repeaters have been installed at intervals to strengthen the voice-carrying currents as they become weak from covering long distances, and the lines have been designated with the view of providing such additional circuits as the growth of the traffic may require.

The Bell System already connects with the telephone system of Canada, Cuba and (by radio telephone) Great Britain. The new service adds Mexico to the list of countries which are within speaking distance of American telephone users.

Dear Fuddlers—

Last week I advertised a bunch of 14-qt. gray dish pans for 25c.

I find some of these articles have been thru a riot and lost some of their outside, de-bauched their constitutions and misconducted themselves. They can no longer appear in good society, but will make good kitchen servants. I find I have an over supply of dairy and pudding pans clothed in gray enamel over-skirts and teddies, that indulged in the riot and got themselves on the 5 and 10c counter, so have concluded to close out the lots at 5 and 10 and 15c. You will find these pans come in handy to feed the pups, kittens and pigs in, and save the yard from getting greasy and messed up.

FINIS WRITTEN ON CAREER OF WESTERN OFFICER OF LAW

By Associated Press.

Oklahoma City, Sept. 29.—Finis has been written to the career of Frank Canton, born Joe Horner, whose deadly aim as a law officer won him a prominent place in fiction and the authentic annals of the West.

Canton, whose love of adventure made him a United States marshal in Alaska during the Klondike gold rush, adjutant general of Oklahoma during the turbulent days of early statehood and led him all ways to the outposts of civilization, died peacefully last night in his own bed from illness growing out of the infirmities of age. He was 76 years old.

Although Canton was reticent regarding his change in name, it was generally known that he assumed the name he bore until his death following a shooting episode in Texas. He killed a negro army officer and wounded two others after they had become angry because of his refusal to drink with them. Although he was convicted of murder, he escaped and never served time. Returning to Texas in after years, Canton persuaded former Governor Hogg to issue a pardon to Horner.

WIFE AND SON ARE HELD ON CHARGE OF MURDERING MARTIN

NEGRO BEATEN TO DEATH ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN VICTIM WIFE AND SON

Rebecca Martin, negroess, aged 45 years, and Gether Martin, negro, aged 18 or 20 years, wife and son, respectively, of L. P. Martin, negro, aged 60 years, who was found dead in front of Mary Winston's house, 1316 East Collin street at an early hour Monday morning with a number of wounds on the head, apparently inflicted with some kind of blunt instrument, were arrested Wednesday night and lodged in the Navarro county jail charged by complaint with murder in connection with the death of Martin.

Five wounds were noted on the head of Martin, three of which were thought to have fractured the skull. The body was lying in the street with the head resting on the curb. His car was parked about a block distance on another street.

The accused persons were brought to County Attorney L. J. Wood's office and questioned and then were arrested and formally charged with murder. The complaints were filed in the court of Judge Sam B. Jordan. The two accused persons had just returned from Overton, Texas, near Athens, where L. P. Martin was buried.

Bonds for each in the sum of $5,000 to await the action of the grand jury were set but had not been made Thursday. The Navarro grand jury will convene Monday and will investigate the case. Mary Winston and Ruth Ross, negroesses, who were arrested Monday for investigation and lodged in the county jail, have been released.

Domestic troubles were reported to have been experienced by the couple.

Martin, a service car driver, was reported to have left home about 4 o'clock Monday morning to meet the early morning train. It is thought that he was followed by his wife and son to the home of Mary Winston and that the attack followed when he emerged from the house. His lifeless body was later found and city officers notified. County Attorney Wood and Justice of the Peace Sam B. Jordan went immediately to the scene and Judge Jordan conducted an inquest. County Attorney L. J. Wood had spent three days investigating the affair. He was assisted by the county and city officers.

UNIQUE REVIVAL HOLDING INTEREST AT FIRST CHRISTIAN

The Three month's Revival which started at the First Christian church the first of last month is continuing to hold the interest of members of the church and many others. Interest in all lines and departments of the church is high, there being an unusual increase in attendance upon all services. The Bible school is maintaining a record and attendance equal to the enrollment, and the audiences at the preaching services are larger than usual.

Beginning next Sunday morning Rev. C. E. Wagner, of Bonham, will conduct the second week of intensive revivalism. The first one was conducted by A. B. McReynolds, of Fort Worth, during the first week in September. Dr. Wagner will be in Corsicana for only one week, from the first to the second Sunday of October, inclusive. He is pastor of the First Christian church of Bonham where he has been for the past five or more years. His church is one of the best churches in the state and Dr. Wagner is an able preacher.

During the two Sundays he is here Paul J. Merrill, the local pastor will fill his pulpit at Bonham. Miss Willetta Barnes, who played the piano last month during the McReynolds meeting, and who made such a splendid impression on the entire city, will be at the piano again during this meeting. This will know her last month.

Plans are being completed for this next revival, and much good is expected. Next month the revival will be conducted by Dr. Arthur Stout of the Central Christian church of Waco.

NEGRO EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES SHOWING WONDERFUL GROWTH

FIRST COMPLETE PUBLISHED REPORT WAS MADE RE-CENTLY IN TEXAS

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Sept. 29.—Remarkable growth of negro educational facilities in Texas is brought to light in a complete published report for the first time by William Eilers, rural supervisor of the state department of education, for the Farm and Ranch magazine.

During the last seven years, 207 school buildings and shops for negro teachers, and eleven teachers' homes have been built at a cost of $1,142,236, of which $221,242 was contributed from funds provided by Julius Rosenwald, Chicago philanthropist, the article says.

"The Rosenwald foundation," Eilers commented, "places a premium on local initiative, and has been the means of awakening interest in education progress of Texas negroes, among whites, as well as the negroes."

The state department of education took advantage of provisions of the Rosenwald foundation in 1920, although it has been available since 1912. Eleven training schools erected with aid of the fund as "leaders" for the Prairie View Normal College, negro state school, are located in the following counties: Cherokee, Ft. Bend, Guadalupe, Houston, Lee, Navarro, Hunt, Henderson, Harrison, Milam and Limestone.

One of the best high school buildings erected with the aid of the Rosenwald fund is located at Woodland in Limestone county. It is an eight room brick structure costing $25,000.

DAY, OCTOBER 3

A public hearing will be held at the Navarro county court house Monday, Oct. 3, by the Navarro county commissioner's court on the proposed calling of an election in the recently created Road District No. 2, embracing the Purdon territory and extending east to the western boundary of Consolidated Road District No. 1 and extending westward to Richland Creek, to determine whether or not bonds in the sum of $135,000, shall be voted for the construction of a reinforced concrete road east and west and short gravel roads north and south of Purdon.

The calling for this hearing was made some time ago upon the presentation of a petition signed by H. C. Russell and 64 other citizens of that vicinity.

Should the commissioners call the election and it should be carried by the necessary vote, the road to the east would connect with the westward road in the Consolidated Road District No. 1 which would give a hard-surfaced road west from Corsicana to within a few miles of Dawson.

SERVICE CHARGE on SMALL CHECKING ACCOUNTS

Because of the large increase in the use of checks in the transaction of business and the increased expense of handling checks, banks find that many small checking accounts are carried on their books at a loss.

Beginning October 1st, 1927, the Corsicana banks will make a charge of fifty cents per month on all checking accounts with an average balance of $50.00 or less, and against which there have been five or more checks drawn during the month. This charge is being made to partly reimburse the banks for the actual expense of handling these accounts.

We want our customers who do not find it convenient to keep an average balance of more than $50.00 to feel free to avail themselves of the convenience of a checking account on the above basis.
